Underwater Atom Bomb Sinks 2 Big Ships, Churns Sea

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, Bikini Lagoon, July 25.—(AP)—The first underwater atomic bomb, exploding with an awesome roar that thundered upward into a beautiful cloudy geyser, destroyed the battleship Arkansas and sank the huge old aircraft carrier Saratoga and seven lesser vessels today.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead, in the best position to view the blast from a B-29, said it was so powerful that the Arkansas was shoved far out of her original anchorage just before she plunged, and other target vessels near the center of the flet of 75 were tossed about like toys.

First to go in the mighty plutonium blast that was the second chapter of the army-navy "Operation Crossroads" was the old 26,100-ton battleship Arkansas. She and two small craft, a yard oiler and a tank-landing ship, simply disappeared in the pink-fringed mist at 8:35 a. m. (4:35 p. m., EST, Wednesday.)

Saratoga Is Sunk.

Seven hours and 32 minutes later, at 4:07 p. m., the 33,000-ton Saratoga, war-worn old carrier, settled protestingly to the bottom of Bikini lagoon. Her prow nosed upward as if her stern were resting on the bottom, then disappeared.

A little later five submarines of the six that had been submerged in the lagoon were found to be resting on the bottom. Whether they were crushed or had sunk through some defects in their air lines was not known.

CIVILIANS WILL GET ATOM CONTROL UNDER COMMITTEE'S PLAN

COMPROMISE WOULD RULE OUT MILITARY ON NATIONAL BODY

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—Senate and house conferees agreed today that the proposed atomic energy control commission should be composed exclusively of civilians.

They agreed also that the director of the division of military application should be a member of the armed forces.

The agreements, announced by Senator McMahon (D-Conn), head of the senate conferees working with a house group to adjust differences over atomic energy legislation, represented a compromise.

The house had insisted that at least one, and not more than two, members of the commission should be members of the armed forces. The senate had insisted that all be civilians.

However, the house won its argument that the director of military application should be a military man instead of a civilian as recommended by the senate.

PROBLEM CONTROL OVER ATOM ENERGY DEBATED IN U.N. BODY, EVEN AS BIKINI BOMB EXPLODES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Atomic energy is the greatest force on which puny man ever has succeeded in putting his halter. It is capable of unlimited destruction or can be made to work wonders.

The method of developing and controlling this new-found might is the world's No. 1 problem of the moment. And yet even as the experts were detonating the underwater bomb at Bikini, the explosive question of atomic control was being used for a football at the conference of the U. N. atomic energy commission.

The proposal of the United States for global supervision of atomic energy once more was up for consideration. That is the altruistic offer of Uncle Sam to destroy his store of atomic bombs and share his atomic secrets for peaceful use if the world will set up adequate safeguards to make sure this terrible weapon never again can be used as an instrument of war.

Yesterday Gromyko again flatly rejected the American proposals.

It might appear that the Soviet suspects Uncle Sam of hiding trickery under the cloak of benefaction. That suspicion would be so utterly absurd that we must look further for an explanation of the Soviet attitude.

The Moscow plan, proposing to keep the whole control within the United Nations machinery, clings tenaciously to that veto power. Observers note that under this arrangement the UN control couldn't institute an investigation within the borders of any nation possessing the veto power. In short, Russia apparently isn't willing to lessen her sovereignty to the extent of granting the atomic control agency the blanket right of investigation within the Soviet Union. She demands the privilege of vetoing investigation.

PREPARATIONS ARE COMPLETED FIRST PRIMARY SATURDAY

ELECTION OFFICIALS REQUESTED TO PHONE RESULTS TO SUN OFFICE

Final preparations for the holding of the first Democratic primary election Saturday have been made by the Navarro county Democratic executive committee under the direction of Jack H. Thompson, chairman, while candidates and their supporters are making last-minute efforts to attract the voters into their camps. In races where a majority of the votes are not secured by one candidate, a run-off Democratic primary election will be held in August.

Polls Open 8 a. m.

The polls open at 8 a. m. Saturday and will close at 7 p. m.

The Corsicana Daily Sun will compile and tabulate returns from the election Saturday evening. All precinct chairmen have been authorized by the county chairman to telephone the Daily Sun (collect) the returns of their boxes as soon as the count has been completed. This newspaper will attempt to secure the complete unofficial returns on election night and this will be impossible in the event that one precinct is unreported. Three telephones will bring in the returns, which will be posted at the Sun building and

8 PERSONS INJURED IN TWO AUTOMOBILE CRASHES NEAR HERE

MISS JEAN GROSS IN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION IN MEXIA HOSPITAL

Automobile accidents Wednesday night near Wortham and Richland caused injuries to eight persons, one of whom is in a critical condition in a Mexia hospital.

Six persons were injured in an automobile-truck collision near the south city limits of Wortham on State Highway 14 at midnight. According to Byron Currin, state highway patrolman, who investigated the accident, a large truck and trailer apparently turned around on the highway. A 1942 model auto, traveling north, containing six persons, struck the rear part of the truck and came to rest with the hood under the truck trailer, Currin said.

In Mexia Hospital.

Miss Jean Gross, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gross, 2104 West Fourth avenue, was reported still in an unconscious condition in the Christoffer and Edgar hospital in Mexia. She received scalp wounds and a possible skull fracture. Her parents are in Mexia at her bedside.

Paul Turner, 20, son of Mrs. Frances Turner, was treated in a Mexia hospital, but is not believed to be seriously injured. His mother is with him.

Broken Right Arm.

Charles Davis, Jr., 20, is in the Navarro Clinic suffering a broken right arm near the wrist, lacerations on the face, shoulder, right arm, and right knee, and loss of a tooth.

Miss Ned DeLafosse, 16, daughter of Mrs. Felix DeLafosse, 416 North Fourteenth street, is in P. and S. Hospital. She received a broken right ankle, lacerations of the right arm, and possible internal injuries. Her condition is termed fair.

Miss Sue Cagle, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Cagle, suffered a possible concussion, and lacerations. Hercondition is termed fair at the P. and S. Hospital.

James Kent Parker, son of Mrs. Roy Leeds, Grapeland, was released from the P. and S. Hospital after first aid treatment for superficial lacerations.

Auto Demolished.

Driver of the truck and trailer was said to have been Grady Henry Farringtfon of Dallas. The passenger car was completely demolished and the truck's back wheel and axle were damaged Currin said. City Marshall John Edwards of Wortham also made an investigation. A Burleson ambulance answered the call.

WILLIAM HEIRENS

Heirens Reported Indicted For Two Chicago Slayings

CHICAGO, July 25.—(AP)—True bills charging William Heirens, 17, University of Chicago student, with murdering Suzanne Degnan, 6, and a former WAVE, Frances Brown, 33, were reported voted today by the Cook County (Chicago) grand jury.

Suzanne's dismembered body was placed in sewer openings in the neighborhood of the Degnan home on the north side.

Note In Lipstick.

The true bill against Heirens was reported voted little more than an hour after the grand jury began hearing evidence from various witnesses in connection with the Degnan slaying and the "lipstick" killing of a former WAVE, Frances Brown, 33.

Miss Brown was found slain in her hotel apartment Dec. 10, 1945, some three weeks before the Degnan killing. She had been shot and stabbd repeatedly by an assassin who left this vivid message scrawled on the living room wall:

"For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more. I cannot control myself."

Slain Jan. 7.

Suzanne, daughter of James Degnan, a former OPA official, was taken from her North Side home early Jan. 7, slain and her body dismembered in the laundry room of an apartment building nearby. The body was reccovered from five sewer openings in the surrounding area.

State's attorney William J. Tougy said today the handwriting on the Suzanne Degnan ransom note and the lipstick message on the apartment wall of the slain former WAVE was that of Heirens.

Teaching Atheism Not Legal, Coke Says Of Schools

AUSTIN, July 25.—(AP)—Contending that public school teachers have no legal right to teach atheism, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson tody said that a man who teaches atheism is teaching a subversive doctrine.

His statement was made in reply to press conference questions concerning his San Antonio speech yesterday when he discussed "the state's responsibility for its children."

The governor said his remarks concerning academic freedom were not made with relation to any of Dr. Homer P. Rainey's past statements on the subject.

He said it is his contention that the whole structure of government in Amrica is based on a belief in God.

At his press coference today he recalled the United States constitutional provision for religious freedom and said Texas had followed along that line with a statue forbidding the teaching of any sectarian view in public schools.

To illustrate his conception of why atheism should not be taught, Stevenson said, "we have complete freedom to wear any kind of clothes we want to, but on the other hand, we couldn't come into a public place without any clothes on at all—which is what atheism does. Atheism comes in without any clothes on at all."

Hearing On Local Cotton Mills Injunction Case Put Off For New Negotiations

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff

Hearing in the case of the Corsicana Cotton Mill vs. United Textile Workers of America, Local No. 77, et al, was abruptly terminated in district court Thursday morning when both sides agreed to a postponement until Friday, August 2, in order to attempt to work out an agreement of issues between the parties.

The hearing was on a restraining order granted last week by District Judge A. P. Mays after disturbances and clashes occurred between the pickets and non-union employees entering the mill to resume its operation. The non-union employees were escorted through a cordon of officers composed of Texas Rangers, highway patrolmen and local city and county officers. The restaining order prohibited violence or threatened violence to persons or property. No disturbance has been reported since the restraining order was granted.

Both Sides Ready

The postponement came after both plaintiff and defendant attorneys had announced ready for the hearing.

Norris W. Lovett, union attorney, had said that all his clients desired was an agreement that management would continue to negotiate looking to a settlement, and suggested the postponement.

"This matter ought to be settled. All the Union wants is the right to negotiate," Lovett observed, and then added that the Union would be willing to postpone the hearing if management would agree to continue to negotiate looking toward a settlement of the differences.

"A living contract is all we want," Lovett continued, and then added that a settlement would be to the interest of all concerned.

Ready to Negotiate

Attorney C. E. McWilliams said the management was ready to negotiate.

At this point, Judge Mays interposed with the statement that the Court was not hearing anything except the restraining order in the case before him.

Lovett asserted that the defendant was willing and ready to "start negotiations now at this table."

Following conference of attorneys after Judge Mays had postpored the hearing until August 2, the attorneys said they would confer with their clients and submit in writing what each would agree to do, and meet together (the attorneys) Tuesday, July 30, in an effort to work out an agreement acceptable to both parties. The hearing before Judge Mays lasted only five minutes.

Order Still In Force

The restraining order issued last week continues in full force and effect until August 2, under the ruling of the Court.

Pickets began their tenth week at the Mill entrances Tuesday morning. The walkout of the union occurred May 23. The Mill was reopened last week.

J. N. Edens, president and general manager, and Otto Smith represented management while the negotiating committee of the Union and W. R. Herod, International Textile representative, sat at the counsel table in the courtroom. Management is represented by John Scott of Fort Worth and Taylor and McWilliams of Corsicana. Norris Lovett and J. S. Simkins represented the Union.

Railroad Car Moved

The railroad car on the siding near the mill has been moved by the railroad following its emptying several days ago. The car has been on the siding since the strike began. The removal was made without protest from the pickets, rail officials said.

Courthouse attaches said that the courtroom was filled with interested union members and spectators soon after 8 a.m. Thursday.

No Political Peace Is Indicated Before "E" Day Saturday

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff.

Communiques from the Texas political battlefront show no indication of an armistice before "E Day" on Saturday.

There appears to be no shortage of ammunition—or targets.

Last night Candidate Grover Sellers continued his offensive against the state Democratic executive committee.

He again challenged the committee officials to affirm or repudiate the statement of a New York newspaper that Texas Democratic party machinery is supporting Homer P. Rainey.

"You are entitled to know," Sellers told a Dallas audience, "so that when you go to your precinct conventions you will be able to determine whetaher you want to continue the present officials of the Democratic state executive committee in office."

Sellers threw flank attfacks at Rainey and Beauford Jester. He accused Rainey of being a Communist and Jester of "using the whip of his railroad commission office, in which he still has four years to serve, to enforce the support of railroads, bus lines, oil and gas companies."

Jerry Sadler also bombarded Jester and Rainey.

"Beauford Jester said at Austin that he could defeat any other candidate in the run off," Sadler said at Hillsboro, "but I say that W. J. Minton of Sherman, who has withdrawn from the race, could have defeated Jester. The people of Texas are awake to the wealth behind his campaign and they are not going to let the special interests dominate the governor's office any longer."

Sadler said Rainey was "in the same boat."

"Rainey has obligated himself to special interests and special isms groups. He has gone contrary to Texas traditions. Men who have grown fat on war contracts are backing Rainey with all their might."

John Lee Smith joined Sellers in the attack against the state Democratic executive committee.

In Longview, Smith accused the body of trying "to create a black and tan Democratic party in Texas."

"When I am elected governor I propose to restore the Democratic party to its rightful owners—the white Democrats of Texas."

Smith asserted that negroes over the state have been meeting this week to pick their candidates. He said "reports have been received from Houston, Temple, Tyler, Lufkin and Texarkana that negroes in those cities will vote solidly for Rainey."

"If Dr. Rainey is in the runoff," Smith declared, "it will be because of the negro vote. I predict one-third of the Rainey vote will be cast by negroes."

Rainey charged in Houston last night that "big newspapers who own radio stations" were discriminating against him in reporting his campaign.

"Some of the big newspapers, who own radio stations, fail to publish my statements in full," Rainey declared, "or they pick out only a part of any statement I make, so that the opposition can play upon words and misrepresent

GENERAL WAITT

General Questioned On May's Actions In Garsson Affair

WASHINGTON, July 25—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt was abruptly summoned for secret questioning by senate war investigators today. He was called after the investigators heard that he acted as a courier for Rep. May (D-Ky) in carrying to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower a clemency plea for a munitions maker's son.

The son, Captain Joseph Garsson, was facing court martial at the time, on charges of disobeying orders. His father is Murray Garsson of the Midwest Munitions Combine now being studied by the senate war investigating committee.

The summons for Waitt, chief of chemical warfare, came amid these fast-breaking developments:

1. The committee released two letters from May to Eisenhower, along with an acknowledging note in reply, in which the Kentucky legislator personally intervened for Capt. Garsson.

2. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) demanded that Waitt be examined immediately, so the committee might know better how to question May in his scheduled appearance tomorrow. The committee agreed and called a special session for 4 p. m. EST behind closed doors. It likewise summoned Maj. Gen. William N. Porter, retired, who Ferguson said was pointed to by evidence as having been instrumental in placing young Garsson in chemical warfare.

3. General Eisenhower told reporters that he has no recollection of the May plea for clemency and

SHORTAGE OF RAIL CARS MAY SLOW UP RECONVERSION PACE

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—Lack of ample freight-carrying space threatened today to clamp an undeclared but nonetheless rigid ceiling on the nation's productive effort.

Why produce more goods than you can expect to ship? was a question already confronting some industries.

The shortage of freight cars was so acute there were reports in railroad circles that the Office of Defense Transportation would recommend further steps to speed deliveries of new units.

U. S. Financing Urged.

One proposal discussed was for the Reconstruction Finance Corporp., to finance purchase of 50,000 cars for lease to the carriers, with priorities on scarce materials for quick construction.

The car bulding industry points to a drop from 2,814 deliveries in May to 2,094 in June as emphasizing a need for assistance in ob-

BOARD MUST DECIDE ON FOOD CONTROLS, ACCORDING TO BILL

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—President Truman "reluctantly" signed into law today the OPA revival bill.

He announced also at a news conference he would make public its three-member price decontrol board shortly.

The president made the announcement five minutes after he signed the bill, telling reporters he was sending a statement to congress within a couple of hours outlining his views.

Mr. Truman said reporters could quote him as saying he signed the one-year extension "reluctantly."

Ceilings Put Back.

When signed by Mr. Truman, the bill automatically will re-establish rent and many of the price ceilings which lapsed July 1. OPA's plans are to follow quickly with a number of temporary adjustments on prices, pending calculation of new and higher ceilings required under the measure.

The bill gives OPA life through next June, but it prohibits restoration of price controls at least until August 20 on such major market basket items as meat and

GIs Restore Order After Germans and Jews Clash, Kill 1

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 25—(AP)—One Jew was killed and at least six persons were injured last night in fighting between Jewish displaced persons and German police near Munich, the U. S. Third Army announced tonight. American troops were called to restore order.

Scores of German civilians and 50 to 100 Jews from the Wolfrathausen displaced persons camp, 15 miles south of Munich, were involved.

The Third Army said a shooting fray on a road outside Wolfrathausen started the riot and it spread rapidly to the town. Jews from the camp started a parade and demonstration which finally was broken up by the American military police and constabulary troopers.

The announcement said fighting erupted when German police set up a road block near Wolfrathausen and stopped a car containing displaced persons, in order to check their passes.

Reports to the Third Army intelligence department and military police said that while the Germans were checking the Jews' passes, four men "came out of the woods near the road block and surrounded the police in an effort to take their carbines."

The four were "believed to be comrades of the displaced persons."

A Jew was killed and another was wounded in the resultant gunplay.

"Later between 50 and 100 Jews from the Wolfrathausen camp staged a parade and demonstration in the streets of the town, attacked German civilians and wounded five," the Third Army said. "U. S. troops were called to the riot area and pushed the rioters back into the camp."

INCENDIARY FIRES SWEEP THREE HOUSTON CHURCHES IN LAST 24 HOURS AS POLICE SEEK FIREBUG

HOUSTON. Puly 25.—(AP)—Three churches here were damaged by fires, one declared by officials to be of incendiary origin, within less than 24 hours today.

Blazes of unexplained origin broke out this morning in the First Baptist church and the Negro Trinity Methodist church, while police were still seeking several small boys seen near the South Main Baptist church last night about the time a fire was discovered there.

Approximately $4,000 worth of material damage was done to the South Main structure and one person was injured, Fire Investigator Lester Gross said. The blaze was definitely started intentionally, he added.

Suspicious circumstances have surrounded an unusually large number of hotel, apartment house and public building fires here in recent months.

A three-alarm fire at the 46-year-old Trinity Methodist church about 10 a. m. today was confined to the attic and roof. The fire department massed 20 pieces of fire fighting apparatus around the two story frame structure.

While firemen were still fighting the Trinity blaze, an alarm came from the First Baptist church six blocks away.

Within an hour the blaze was extinguished except in a small area on the fourth floor of the five-story building.

Last night the third fire in three months at the South Main church was detected while 250 persons were in the building.

Gross said baptismal robes had been piled in the middle of the floor of the second-story dressing room where the fire centered.

Most of the material damage was caused by smoke and water, Gross said in astimating damage.

Fires which authorities said had been set deliberately caused little damage to the church on Easter and on June 5.

ELECTION DEFEATS OF SOLONS STUDIED

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—The sudden rise in primary defeats of house incumbents may or may not be indicative of a trend to "kick the ins out."

But it has piled up evidence that many of the old-timers in congress are on the political skids.

The average service of the 11 representatives and five senators who have failed in renomination attempts so far is nearly 12 years.

Two senators—Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, and Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Republican—lost primary battles while in their 24th year in the senate.

Veteran Solons Out.

One representative — Zebulon Weaver, North Carolina Democrat —was in his 28th year when he lost. Two others—Malcolm Tarver, Georgia and Jed Johnson, Okelahoma, both Democrats — were serving out their 20th year.

Only two—Senator Charles C. Gossett, Idaho Democrat, and Rep. Helen Douglas Mankin, Georgia Democrat—were in their first year.

So far as the house defeats are concerned, Democratic and Republican party officers commented today that they saw no particular significance in them. It was more or less a question of "personalities" they said. One Democratic official noted that all Democratic losses were in solidly Democratic districts which meant, he said, that Democrats would succeed Democrats in November.

Served "Too Long."

However, one of the winners, Henderson L. Lanham, solicitor general of the Rome judicial district in Georgia, who defeated Rep. Tarver, put it this way:

"Mr. Tarver has been in Washnigton too long. Two decades in that city would make it impossible for a man to realize he was looking backward."

In 1944 there were only 13 primary defeats for house incumbents prior to the November elections—nine Democrats and four Republicans. Since 17 states have yet to pick candidates, it is almost certain this number will be exceeded.

Price Daniel of Liberty, candidate for attorney general of Texas in the primary election Saturday, spoke here at 1 p. m. Wednesday in the interest of his candidacy. Daniel charged that his opponent is supported by entrenched politicians and predicted his election Saturday. He is a former speaker of the House of Representatives.

TWO STUDENTS FROM CALIFORNIA MAKING EXPERIMENTS HERE

LARGE YELLOW BALLOONS FILLED WITH HELIUM SENT INTO STRATOSPHERE

By MURRAY ORMAN
Daily Sun Staff

Two large yellow colored balloons filled with helium were released into the stratosphere shortly after 10:30 o'clock this morning from Corsicana City Park by two California Institute of Technology students, Burton Henke and Edward Deeds.

The balloons heading upward and gradually northward should have landed near Fort Worth or Dallas by the time this is read. They were expected to rise to a height of 20 miles. The balloons are coupled together, one a little higher than the other. The higher ballon will eventually burst in the rarified atmosphere of the stratosphere and the other will come slowly to earth.

Equipment In Basket

When it comes back to earth, it will bring back with it an egg-shaped basket attached to it. The basket contains photographic equipment, vacuum tubes and counter tubes, batteries, and a thermometer. A red tail has been fastened to the basket to make it more conspicious.

An envelope containing a dollar and instructions for communicating with the students is attached to the basket. A reward will be paid for the return of the instruments.

Together, the instruments make an electroscope which will count the number of cosmic rays striking it. The cosmic rays are mysterious particles ten thousand times smaller than atoms which strike the earth's atmosphere, coming from interstellar space with almost the speed of light. They are closely akin to nuclear fission which makes the atom bomb what it is.

Great Penetrating Power

Secondary nuclear rays pass through the body at the rate of about 20 per second. They have far greater penetrating power than X-rays and have been found to penetrate 50 feet of lead. They have been found in mines where they had to penetrate 1600 feet of rock to get.

The students are working under the supervision of Dr. Robert A. Millikin, California Institute of Technology physics professor, who was awarded the Nobel prize in 1923 for physics research.

Want Instruments Returned

The balloons were released here in the hope that they will come down in a populous section where the instruments will be found and returned. Two sets of instruments costing approximately $5000 have been lost out of nine that have been sent aloft.

Elbert Lunsford, U. S. weather bureau expert, accompanied Henke and Deeds to advise them on weather currents. When the balloons were released the wind was blowing directly north.

Rise Rapidly

The balloons were visible for approximately an hour after they left the ground, rising at a rate of 650 feet a minute when they left the ground. The rate of ascension is expected to slow down when they are several miles above the earth but will continue to be rapid. To ascend five miles in four hours and allow one of them to return to earth slowly enough not to damage the delicate instruments, the balloons will have to travel upward in a hurry.

If the instruments come down anywhere near Dallas or Fort Worth and are returned, other balloons will be launched from Corsicana.

Allan Shivers Is Fully Qualified

Senator Allan Shivers is the only candidate for lieutenant governor who has the experience and qualifications that are so badly needed to properly preside over the Texas Senate, the lieutenant governor's chief function. Allan Shivers gained this experience through 12 years of service as a senator, interrupted only by two years overseas duty with the Army. He is also the only war veteran seeking the lieutenant governor's office.

had been informed today it did not actually reach his desk.

Ike Directs Report

4. Eisenhower directed the publication of a report on some wartime failures of 4.2 mortar shells. He said that he was never informed of them as Allied commander in Europe. The senate committee has heard that some of the 4.2 shells, of the type made by a number of contractors including the Garssons, exploded in the mortar muzzle, killing gun crews.

5. The Army disclosed plans to investigate its officers who have been linked in committee testimony to various Garsson activities, business and socia .

Maj. Gen. Lloyd D. Parks, director of the Bureau of Public Relations, told reporters that the war department is following the investigation very closely.

Army Inquiry Seen

He said the likely precedure is that after the senate committee has finished its investigation and all the evidence is in, the Army will conduct its own inquiry.

Gen. Eisenhower told reporters today he could not recall having seen a letter from Rep. May asking him to intervene in the court martial.

He said he was told this morning that the letter did not reach his desk and that it may have gone to the judge advocate general's office.

The senate committee released correspondence which showed that May wrote Eisenhower twice in Capt. Garsson's behalf. The Captain is the son of Murray Garsson one of the promoters of the munitions combine which the committee is investigating .

Question Waitt Quick

Waitt should be questioned today, Ferguson told the committee, because it would want to establish the facts before May appeared to testify at 9 a. m. (EST) tomorrow on his acknowledged assistance to the combine during the war.

Ferguson suggested, too, that the committee also call Maj. Gen. William Porter, retired, former chief of chemical warfare. He said the committee has received information it was Porter who had young Garsson transferred by personal request to the chemical warfare service.

The War Department said today that Rep May (D-Ky) twice intervened with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during the court martial of Capt. Joseph H. Garsson, son of a mid-western munitions maker under congressional investigation.

In response to inquiries, the department said the house military committee chairman sent two letters to Ensenhower in behalf of young Garsson who was court martialed on a charge of willfully disobeying a lawful command of a regimental commander.

The letters went to Eisenhower in the European theater. They were handled in the "routine manner," the department said, and had "no influence whatevâr in the disposition of the case."

Garsson is the son of Murray Garsson, one of the promoters of the mid-west munitions combine whose war profits are under scrutiny of the senate war investigating committee. May, who has acknowledged intervening with the war department in behalf of the combine, is scheduled to appear before the committee tomorrow.

Capt. Garsson was brought to trial last April 2 in Europe. The war department said the court found him guilty and sentenced him to dismissal, but recommended clemency. Garsson eventually was "relieved from active duty" last Jan. 22.

dairy products, as well as on grains, petroleum and tobacco.

Farm Pricing Changed.

Besides divesting OPA of much of its authority over prices of manufactured goods, the bill in the case of farm commodities gives all authority to the secretary of agriculture and ultimately to an independent three-man board. This board is to be named by the president and confirmed by the senate.

The legislation prohibits restoration of price controls before August 20 on meats, dairy products, eggs, poultry, petroleum, tobacco, cottonseed and soybeans, and their products. It also bans ceilings until at least that time on grain and livestock and poultry feeds made from grain.

Control Board's Power.

The control board could rule by August 20 whether or not ceilings should be re-established on meats, dairy products, grains, cottonseed and soybeans. If it failed to act ceilings would be restored automatically.

On the other items, ceilings could not be re-invoked even after August 20 unless the board gave its permission.

The bill also sets up a new pricing standard for fixing ceilings of manufacturers, producers and processors. These ceilings would reflect 1940 average industry-wide prices on each product, plus cost increases which have occurred since that time. Under the old law, 1936-39 was the price base.

IMPORTANT WORD TO NAVARRO COUNTY VETERANS

The foundations of a lasting peace could never have been started without your many, unselfish sacrifices. Now, after you have completed your fighting part with millions of fellow countrymen, the nation looks toward global peace wrought by freemen who treasure the priceless blessings of liberty and democratic ideals.

I do not need to remind you of our friends in this very county who have paid the supreme sacrifice.

We owe it to those men to cast our ballots—of such is democracy itself built and forever preserved. Nor can we, as veteran -citizens, intelligently vote unless we determine who the candidates are and what they stand for.

You will not see Robert V. Yarber soliciting a long list of public names to support him, for it is my belief that prudent men will not publically endorse a candidate, except in limited professional fields.

Altho this is the first time I have asked for public office, I believe there exists a fundamental difference between honest criticism of an opponents publically-expressed ideas, and, on the oher hand, what is called political mudslinging the act of mudslinging borders on slander of character; intelligent criticism of ideas is a cornerstone of democracy.

As veterans you, of course, have no duty to vote for veterans, but I feel that a veteran will better serve your needs.

Let us examine briefly the candidates for Representatie, 58th District. The gentleman now holding the office, altho a non-veteran, is deeply conscious of the welfare of each citizen.

The 2nd candidate, E. D. (Ditt) McCormick saw fit to give up a public office to serve his country.

A 3rd candidate, Geo. O. Nokes, Jr., is also a veteran. He served in Europe as an Air Corps Officer. Altho this candidate didn't have the opportunity to finish his college degree, he does have four months of law school to his credit (under GI benefits.)

I seek your vote on the basis of completion of my BBA degree (June, 1943) under Navy orders, my platform for veterans, and lastly my service to our country as an enlisted man—just like 90 percent of you veterans who read this, I seek to make no criticism in general of our lower pay, reduced social position, and lack of terminal leave. For then I would be called jealous and certainly we enlisted men weren't jealous of our officers! We didn't like a lot of things, here and overseas, in the Army-Navy set-up. But, we were big enough to be understanding and cooperative when our way of life was at stake.

I won no ribbons for bravery overseas, but I did, like all of you, serve as long and honorably as my country asked. No man could do more.

I hope my program to serve you meets with your approval.

May I humbly and strongly suggest that you VOTE on Saturday, July 27—the first free election in Texas—and a great factor in what we fought to forever preserve.—ROBERT V. YARBER.

GENE KELLY, ONE OF HOLLYWOOD'S BEST, BACK IN MOVIELAND

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD, July 25—(AP)—Gene Kelly, one of the most natural and unassuming guys who ever hit the screen, is back on the production line.

I saw the ex-Navy man during his first day's work in "Life's for the Loving," and it's a pleasure to report that he's in A-1 shape.

"I put on 18 pounds in the Navy" "and I really feel fine."

Like any other veteran, Gene is bustling around, getting back into the swing of civilian and cinematic life.

Unlike some returning actors, Gene's position in pictures is unique to the extent that he has less, rather than more competition than he had when he went into the service two years ago. Fred Astire has retired, at least temporarily, and George Murphy has virtually turned in his dancing shoes. But Kelly has no such intention.

"How could I," he asked, "when they've got so much set for me here? It looks like a production line ahead of me. I don't know which picture I'll do next, but I think it will be "The Pirate" with Judy Garland.

TEXAS TODAY

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Along the Texas Coast wary citizens are keeping their fingers crossed. It's the hurricane season. A big blow is possible anywhere from June through November.

So far this season just one hurricane has been reported. It popped up far to the south, moved north slowly, and then fizzled. Everyone knocked on wood.

What is a hurricane? Where do they start? Where do they go?

First, a hurricane is a wind over 75 miles per hour. It can reach 250 miles per hour. It travels anti-clockwise above the equator, clockwise below the equator. Roughly, it's shaped like a huge doughnut, with an "eye" in the center which is dead calm.

Although the winds travel in a circle at a terrific rate, the hurricane itself advances slowly, from 10 to 20 miles an hour. You can get out of its path easily when properly warned by the increasingly alert weather bureau.

Just how they start really isn't known exactly. Those that hit Texas start in the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico. The average hurricane lives about ten days, but can blow around for a month.

They are difficult to plot because they curve, twist even make a complete loop.

If you're in the direct path of a hurricane, the wind will strike, blow for as long as 12 hours, stop suddenly, completely for almost an hour, then return with possibly stronger force than before and blow for another 12 hours from exactly the opposite direction.

The wind, at such speed, is almost solid. It causes major damage. But most casualties are caused by flying debris—in Florida once the wind hurled cocoanuts like bullets. Houses are sometimes crushed like eggs. High tides drown many on exposed places. Six thousand persons drowned in Galveston back in 1900 when a tidal wave swpet the island.

Accompanying rainfall can measure up to 40 inches. Often electrical storms occur, but you can't hear the thunder above the roar of the wind.

Here are a few rough rules of thumb which coastal residents can use to determine if a hurricane is approaching. A brilliant crimson sunrse or sunset sometimes means a weather change. The moon may have a halo around it. The wind will shift suddenly. It may get a little fitful. Maybe a little gusty. Showers might fall, and the barometer will drop slightly. (Barometers really drop sharply only when the storm is almost on top of you.) It gets gustier, and scud clouds appear. The waves, instead of rolling in every six or seven seconds, will become swells and roll every ten oa 12 seconds. (That's the best sign.) The tide comes up. Then over the horizon looms the big, gray storm itself, maybe a hundred miles in diameter, reaching miles into the air, swirling, roaring—and it's time to take to cover.

But the weather bureau is so accurate these days, they will have warned you long before then.

PRICE DANIEL

Candidate for Attorney General of Texas

We don't often have the opportunity to know our candidates for State office, so I am giving a pen picture of Price Daniel the man, taken from a letter that he wrote each of the members of the 48th Legislature. He is not only a good lawyer, but is also a fine man.

"I wish it were possible for me to write a personal letter to each of you, but I am sure you will understand that this is the best I can do until after the War is over. I like my work in the Army, but think often of the pleasant association and friendship with you during the Forty-Eighth Legislature. If it didn't cost the taxpayers so much money, I would be glad to see a special session, especially if Uncle Sam would let me go home for a few weeks to be with you once again before our fortunes and other callings break up the membership of one of the finest groups ever to serve the people of Texas.

I hope the Manual will serve as a constant reminder of our pleasant associations in the House, and not so much as a reminder of the Speaker's bad rulings. It is my hope that each of you is enjoying good health and as much happiness as possible under present world conditions. May God bless each of you and speed the day when Peace can be restored and maintained on this earth.

Your Friend,

Price Daniel

NAME SELECTED FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE AT TRUSTEES' MEETING

FINANCES DISCUSSED; SCHOOL EXPECTED TO OPEN THIS FALL

Board of trustees of the county junior college district today selected the name of Navarro Junior College as the official title of the school scheduled to begin operations in the fall.

Ray L. Waller, newly elected president, presented a revised budget for the school to the board and a discussion was held on revisions and economy, with the board's intention to establish and operate the institution as economically as practical.

Waller was instructed to draw up a minimum budget and a budget expected to suffice with the expected enrollment of over 200 students. He will have the report prepared by Friday so Ralph R. Brown, treasurer, may present it to the banking officials for approval in view of expected loans until the tax money is delivered to the treasury.

Executive Committee.

Due to the fact Chairman O. L. Albritton and Treasurer Ralph R. Brown will be gone from the county for a month, J. W. Richards was appointed temporary treasurer and an executive committee composed of Richards, L. B. Bonner, vice-chairman, and Lloyd K. Carraway, sceretray, will act upon matters of policy already agreed upon previously by the board.

Primary discussions of the meeting were concerned with matters of vital importance at the present moment. Waller was authorized to act as purchasing agent for desks and other supplies for the classrooms, and to begin accepting applications for teacher postions, which wil bie brought to the board for consideration. Waller, C. G. Strickland, dean; and Gaston T. Gooch, registrar, will survey the physical properties at the site of the school at Air Activities field in respect to necessary remodeling.

Discuss Finances.

Brown reported interviews with banking officials and requested the submission of a budget to help expedite matters. It was not contemplated borrowing of any money until Sept. 1, but he urged the appointment of a temporary treasurer in event such a necessity arose. A motion was passed stipulating the secretary sign all checks and countersigning will be done by the treasurer.

A report and survey of the physical properties at Air Activities was given by Brown. There will be two dormatories available for housing men and women students and classrooms are available in the old ground school building. Subject of a lunchroom and bookstore was discussed and a decision made to have the college purchase the books and sell to the student. Establishment of eating facilities was tabled until further discussions with city officials.

Open Offices.

Waller and Strickland have established offices with J. C. Watson, county superintendent of schools, in the courthouse. Gooch is at present serving as a teacher in the city schools summer semester.

Transportation problems concerned the board's time with final decision pending. However at present it is planned to operate four busses. Board members and Waller are planning to contact automotive dealers in the city and county to determine how many vehicles can be purchased by the start of classes.

The board adjourned subject to call, with the intention to hold the next meeting at the site of the school. All board members were present, as were the new administrators of the school with the exception of Gooch.

Burke Returns Home; Treatments Improve Injured Condition

Harry Burke, local oil operator, was returned home Sunday from Houston where he has been the past two months for treatment and an operation for a back injury sustained last fall in a truck mishap several miles west of Corsicana. Burke underwent an operation two weeks ago and his condition has improved.

BEWARE OF STRANGER BEARING GIFTS; CORSICANA PEOPLE ARE VICTIMS OF NUMEROUS RACKETS

By MURRAY ORMAN
Daily Sun Staff

The Trojans has a word for it and the word was "Beware of the Greeks when they come bearing gifts."

E. C. Mueller, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today that the general public should beware of the Stranger when he comes bearing gifts, or at least something that is so cheap and wonderful that it looks like a gift. The gift horse should be looked in the mouth when a stranger leads it up.

"Corsicana has been hit by gifted racketeers, sometimes just within the law and sometimes out of it, and it will be hit again," he said.

Sounds Good

Th racketeers are usually glib, well dressed men and women well endowed with the gift of gab and offering something that sounds too good to be passed up. They take in the public because the public is off guard, innocent, unsuspecting, and sometimes greedy.

There are a number of rackets today that are being pushed for all they are worth and they are worth plenty because they prey on the love of veterans families for their veteran. Some of these rackets described by Mueller are:

Hero Books

Hero books. A strange publisher comes into the community. He gets a list of parents who have lost a son in the war. A woman then approaches the parents asking that she be permitted to use his photograph in a "Hero Book" which is going to include the picture, rank and story of every hero in the county. This representative assures the family there is no obligation and that the photograph will be returned in good shape. A few days later this contact is followed up by a high pressure man who tells the family that every other family in the county is buying a full page in this book, usually starting the price at about $100 and tapering down to whatever he can get. Nobody ever reads the books.

Then there's the stranger in uniform or wearing a discharge emblem who takes orders for magazines at reduced rates and collects all or half the money.

"Help Veterans"

Identification tags with a sympathetic appeal to "Help Veterans" are being sold around the country. Mueller says it would be interesting to know how many veterans are receiving any benefits.

Families of veterans who lost their lives occasionally receive packages with collect charges, supposedly sent by buddies of the killed servicemen. The packages contain worthless items. And the post office is not to blame.

The local chamber of commerce has been called on to investigate "religious rackets" in which unknown people from out of town beg money to build new churches, buy new cars, or do missionary work. One group, with a church membership of only three adults, wanted money to build a new parsonage.

Use Religion As Racket

"Many of these itinerant preachers are nothing more than rascals using religion as a racket," Mueller said. "Before anybody gives them anything, he should investigate. Legitimate people will welcome investigation."

The short change expert gets away with money by having a line of fast chatter to distract attention of the cashier while he substitutes a smaller bill for a bill of larger denomination which he originally tenders and for which he secures change.

Short Change Stranger

Another short change racket is practiced by a stranger who goes in a busy store, purchases a small article and hands the sales girl a marked $10 bill. As he leaves the store a woman goes to the same counter and makes a small purchase giving the clerk a one dolair bill. She turns to leave and says, "That was a $10 bill I gave you." Some difference of opinion is expressed. The customer recalls that the $10 bill she gave the clerk had a telephone number on it. The clerk looks. Sure enough, there is the marked $10 and the clerk dishes out the extra money.

Investigate

"People wil save a lot of money if they will check with the Chamber of Comemrce before they buy from itinerant salesmen or make donations to strangers," Mueller said. "All they have to do is pick up the telephone and call us. We can't stop them from investing their money in dubious enterprises if they want to, but we can at least tell them that it is dubious. And mighty few people want to make investments of that kind."

Corsicana Day At North Texas Fair

Monday, August 26 has been designated as Corsicana and Navarro County Day at the North Texas Fair at Arlington, Texas.

E. C. Mueller, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was notified by Helen Wessler, chairman of the special days committee for the fair, that the day had been set aside for Corsicana and Navarro county and that a block of reserved seats will be held for the local delegation.

Recognition of the Corsicana group will be made over the Fair's public address system, according to the announcement.

The fair is held from August 24 through September 2. Admission to the grounds is free. Tickets to the rodeo to be held in connection with the fair are $2.10 each.

HALLEY BLAKE For
Assessor and Collector Of Taxes

Halley Blake, your present Tax Assessor and Collector, as most of you know, has rendered Navarro County efficient, courteous and friendly service in your Tax Collector's Office. In January, 1946, she turned over to the County Treasury $5500.00 in fees above the expense of operating her office during the year 1945. This is a good indication of her efficiency in the operation of your Tax Collector's office. Now as never before we need to retain a capable official in our Tax Assessor and Collector's office. Your vote for Halley Blake will insure the Navarro County people of retaining that efficiency in our Tax Collector's office.

Halley Blake, in addition to rearing and educating a cousin, Dan Cunningham, is now and has been for the past 14 years the only support of her widowed mother.

Your vote for Halley Blake for Tax Assessor and Collector on July 27th will be sincerely appreciated.

WALLER NAMED HEAD OF JUNIOR COLLEGE AT BOARD MEETING

STRICKLAND, GOOCH AND ALBRITTON ARE OTHER EXECUTIVES

Ray L. Waller, superintendent of Dawson schools, was named president of Navarro County Junior college at the first meeting of the newly elected trustees Monday at 2 p. m. in the courthouse. O. L. Albritton was elected chairman of the board of trustees.

Assisting Waller in the formulation of curriculum and other pressing details prior to the beginning of classes in the fall will be C. G. Strickland, former superintendent of schools at Purdon, and assistant county superintendent, who will be the dean, and Gaston T. Gooch, principal of Corsicana Junior High school, who will be the registrar.

Trustees, in the process of forming their organizational structure, named L. B. Bonner as vice-chairman; Lloyd K. Carraway, secretary; and Ralph R. Brown as treasurer.

Tax Levy Authorized

Motions were passed levying the 10 cents tax on the $100 evaluation; naming the tax assessor-collector to collect the tax; naming the former Air Activities Field as the site of the school; and choosing the First National Bank as the official depository of school funds. County Attorney J. C. Roe will draft the necessary papers.

County Judge L. L. Powell administered the oath to the seven trustees: O. L. Albritton, L. B. Bonner, Lloyd K. Carraway; Bruce McCormick, Ralph R. Brown, J. W. Richards, and Curtis Patterson. County Superintendent J. C. Watson served as temporary chairman pending the election of officers.

Finances Discussed

Waller's appointment to the office followed a lengthy discussion of financial problems to be encountered in the coming year. The new president presented a suggested budget for the board's information.

Appointment of school administrators, effective Aug. 1, was unanimous. Wallers salary will be $4,500 and Strickland and Gooch will receive $3,000 yearly. Teacher appointments will come later with the president making recommendations to the board.

Next meeting of the board will be at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in the commissioner's courtroom. Waller will begin drafting of a budget and information will be obtained on the possibilities of purchasing surplus war properties for school assets.

Election Officials Thanked

A resolution was passed by the board thanking the county wide committee and educators for efforts during the election and in securing petitions for the formation of the county junior college district.

E. G. Marshall, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, was a visitor. He spoke strongly in favor of junior colleges. J. C. Roe, county attorney, advised the group as to the proper steps to be taken and offered his services at any time for the school.

Waller comes to his new post with teaching experience dating back to 1927. He has been superintendent of Dawson schools since 1939; was superintendent of Rice schools from 1935-1939; principal of Dawson High school from 1929-1935; and coached football two years at Picton High school.

Waller's Experience Cited

He received his B. A. degree from Texas Technological college and his M. A. from Southern Methodist university. In addition to his record as an educator, he is a past director of county interscholastic declamation; director general of the county interscholastic league; chairman of the football district three years; president of the Navarro County School Administrators; and is now president of the Navarro County Teachers association.

Formerly president of the Equalization School Administrators Association of Texas, he was recently elected treasurer of the Central Texas Teachers association. Married, he is the father of two children, a girl 11 and a boy 9. At present residing in Dawson, he will move his family as soon as a home is found in the city.

Strickland Veteran Teacher

Strickland's entire teaching career has been located in Navarro county. Superintendent of Purdon schools from 1936-40, he became assistant county school superintendent in 1940. In 1942 he became a ground instructor at Air Activitie Field, remaining there until 1943, at which time he served as an instructor at Baylor university in the Navy V-5 program.

After service in the Army in 1945, he again joined the staff at Baylor upon discharge. This past year he has been at the University of Texas doing work on his doctor's degree. He has an B. A. and M. A. degree from Baylor.

He plans to bring his wife and eight-year old son to Corsicana as soon as he obtains living quarters. He is a past secretary of the Navarro County Teachers association and Navarro County Administrators association.

In 1931 he became principal of the grade school at Carbon, leaving there in 1932 to become principal of Dawson grade school. From 1935-1943 he was principal of Dawson Senior High school.

GENIAL STATE TREASURER JESSE JAMES, while in East Texas in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to the office he now holds, gave a brief summary of the State's finances.

Mr. James explained that during his tenure of office the condition of the General Fund had made a complete cycle, reaching in November, 1942, the staggering adverse balance in deficit of over $34 million, and since that time he has watched the Fund steadily improve until now its free cash balance is around $34 million to the good.

This cash, Mr. James reported, is only a part of $100,958,518.91 held in all State Funds on deposit with State and National Banks of Texas. In addition, the Permanent Funds of the State hold $221,336,136.01 in securities in his underground vaults. And added to this total are $147,713,888.87 in securities which he holds in his vaults as Trustee and $153,176,434.46 of cash on deposit with the U. S. Treasury which is the State of Texas' money for payment as unemployment compensation, for a grand total of $623,184,928.25.

"Although," Mr. James stated, "the volume of business transacted daily in the State Treasury Department has increased enormously in the past six years, by personnel training and through the adoption of modern accounting and routine systems, this extra volume of work has been met without increasing the personnel and with little additional cost to the State."

To The Friends Of Education In Navarro County

Many of the school teachers of Navarro County wish to call your attention to the following important facts:

1—We now have harmony, mutual confidence, and respect and a helpful, beautiful spirit of harmony existing in the schools. Let's keep J. C. Watson and preserve that spirit of cooperation.

2—We have made steady, substantial, permanent progress during Mr. Watson's tenure. Let's continue to go forward with him.

3—He worked untiringly and unselfishly to get the Hot Lunch program established and gave days and days to free service in providing surplus foods and in keeping the program going. Let's show our gratitude by giving him a vote of confidence.

4—We know we can have a supervisor—when we want one. Let's keep J. C. Watson and be asured that the supervisor will not become a "snoopervisor."

5—J. C. Watson put himseuf out to the last limit to get the veterans' school established here. He gave up a part of his office space and he spent his own money to get it going. It is running smoothly and efficiently. Let's keep J. C. and keep that efficiency.

6—Let's re-elect J. C. Watson to show our appreciation for his helpful, sympathetic attitude in visiting our schools and advising with us.

7—Let's show our gratitude to Mr. Watson for his sane, sensible leadership in helping to secure a Junior College for Navarro County so that the children of all the people, rich and pood may have college training.

8—We have been free of dictation and the domineering spirit in the County Superintendent's office. Let's keep it that way.

9—Let us keep our schools a place where children can feel free and happy and encourged to exercise initiative and not cramped and afraid. Children instinctively respond to the warm-hearted sympathy of Superintendent Watson. It should always be that way.

10—Let us encourage young teachers to enter the teaching profession and not be afraid of dictation from cut and dried rules.

ATOMIC

that razed most of Nagasaki last August—the atomic bomb did not immediately sink as many of the 75 target vessels as observers had expected.

True Damage Unknown.

The true extent of the damage is still unknown, however. Ships still were "hot" with radioactivity many hours later. Navy men and scientists edged ever closer and re-entered the lagoon with sensitive instruments, trying to determine the danger and ascertain the full damage as soon as possible.

The battleship New York and the Japanese battleship Nagato were listing, evidently damaged, as were the battered carrier Independence, the destroyer Hughes, the transport Fallon and the heavy cruiser Pensacola.

When the bomb went off, observers had their glasses on the mast of a small landing craft that was above the submerged atom bomb.

Huge Water Tower.

An almost incredibly white dome of water rose where the slim mast had stood. It glowed momentarily. Then it spread, at first wide and flat, to perhaps half a mile in breadth. Suddenly it shot upward with lightning speed.

At the top of the dome, the water spread in a great wide column with a rounded top. In two seconds the top widened like a grotesque mushroom, whose thick stem by that time was nearly a half-mile wide at the base, which in turn was boiling upward.

The air mushroom spread out to more than a mile wide. All this time the entire display was dazzling white.

Water Streams Down.

Then from the widening edges of the mushroom umbrella pure white points of water, V-shaped, began streaming down toward the ships. Many of these sprays were far larger than any of the big battleships.

At this moment must have been occurring one of the almost incredible phenomena of atomic energy. Water thrown against the Saratoga crushed her massive stack, knocking half of it to the flight deck.

A series of waves spread from the spot where the bomb was detonated. They raced out toward the ships outside the lagoon and some poured over a small island off Bikini's shore. The main island was not inundated. Admiral Blandy estimated the wave was seven to ten feet high at Bikini island—lower than had been expected.

Force Felt At Distance.

Ships rocked. The hot force of the bomb's concussion was felt by some observers outside the lagoon. Parts of target ships' equipment, mattresses and the like, undulated on the waves.

Slowly the mist began to clear. Some of the target ships became visible again.

Men who had expected many of the ships to be gone were amazed to see them floating where they last had seen them.

But all efforts to find the Arkansas, a concrete yard oiler, a tank landing ship and the medium landing ship over the bomb were futile. They simply had disappeared.

Saratoga Badly Damaged.

Smoke began pouring from the Saratoga. It was possible to see that she was listing by the stern.

Hours later a plane reported that the Saratoga was going down. Admiral Blandy, boss of the Crossroads operation, sent tugs into the lagoon to try to beach her, but in vain.

A destroyer had raced into the lagoon and out again earlier.

Elton C. Fay, Associated Press reporter aboard the flagship Mt. McKinley, said that patrol teams later entered the logoon in gunboats and transferred to launches. They were seen skirting the edges of the array.

Deadly Rain Produced.

Less than nine hours after the explosion, this ship entered the lagoon, but anchored some distance from the targets.

Col. Stafford Warren, the radiological safety chief, said that a rain of death-dealing fission particles came down in the lagoon immediately after the millions of tons of lagoon water skyrocketed upward.

Later, clouds along a 30-mile front became contaminated with fissionable products. This cloud bank drifted to the northwest. It was tracked by airplanes.

Colonel Warren pointed out that rain from clouds of this nature could be deadly.

my attitude on public questions."

Rainey again charged that "the same forces that got out the pamphlet questioning my patriotism, the same forces that reprinted the O'Daniel news attack on me" were responsible for a New York newspaper story, datelined Houston and signed by a Steve Potter, saying that the Communist party had endorsed Rainey.

"My friends here in Houston have been unable to locate any such person as Steve Potter, either in the telephone directory or the city directory."

Jester, in Lufkin, leveled a barrage at such political methods as "for men only" meetings.

He promised that women would have a prominent part in the state government when he is governor.

"All my meetings are just like this one, open to men, women and children," he said. "All my literature is readable by everyone and will cause no embarrassment to women and children."

Jester then declared that he intends to appoint "many of the fine women of Texas to office when I am elected governor."

The candidate spoke before a lerge crowd, including delegations from seven surrounding counties as a rally boosted as "Jester's East Texas Victory Rally."

Caso March casually tendered a warning to one of his opponents last night.

He said he would be in Throckmorton, hometown of Candidate John Lee Smith, today and intended to "take Smith apart, piece by piece."

Where they are today:
Beauford H. Jester—Houston.
Homer J. Rainey—San Antonio.
Jerry Sadler—Longview, Dallas.
Grover Sellers—Emory, Doyce City, Rockwall, Garland, Dallas.
John Lee Smith—Houston.

In Abilene last night, Larry Mills, candidate for lieutenant governor, assailed the Texas Regulars and W. Lee O'Daniel, whom he described as a puppet of special interests.

"The dastardly methods employed by these autocrats are a shame and disgrace and an insult to the intelligence of the loyal Democrats of the state," Mills said.

In Dickinson, Jo Ed Winfree, candidate for lieutenant governor, urged Texas voters to "turn the light of examination upon my indelible record during 12 years in the legsiature."

He asserted that he fought for renewal of tax remission for seawall purposes at Galveston, Port Arthur and Freeport, as well as drainage in Hidalgo county. He said he "helped take graft out of the Colorado river and opened thousands of acres in Wharton and Matagorda counties."

DOUBLE FUNERAL IS HELD FOR VICTIMS OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Duoble funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Ozburn, aged 80, and her daughter, Mrs. Edwina Milam, 53, former Corsicanans, who were killed in a truck-car mishap near Indio, Calif., Friday, were held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the First Baptist church here. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. J. I. Cartlidge, pastor.

The two women, accompanied by Mrs. Milam's son, Bill Milam, Double funeral services for Mrs. Inglewood, Calif., after a visit with friends and relatives in Waco and Corsicana, when the accident occurred. The youth was seriously hurt.

Pallbearers for Mrs. Milam were Virgil Williamson, George Hudson, Campbell Gillespie, Guy Buck, W. A. Smith, J. L. McCleary, R. G. Patrick and W. C. Lewis.

Pallbearers for Mrs. Ozburn were H. E. Smalling, R. R. Owen, C. A. Middleton, Walter Castles, J. L. Jackson, E. F. Wright, Alva Taylor and S. S. Boyd.

Let The Navarro County

VOTERS

Decide

The candidates are the defendants and the voters make up the jury. Three candidates ask for a fair, unbiased decision by the voters in the race for Tax Assessor and Collector.

I. The present incumbent, unmarried, has already served three terms and now seeks a fourth term. By January 1, 1947, she will have drawn $28,500 in salary. This added to the salary earned during the years she served as assistant in same office would total well up into the thirty thousands. Haven't the people of Navarro County already rewarded her sufficiently? Does she need more?

II. Another lady, who according to her announcement speeches began drawing county funds at the age of 16, seeks this office. She now holds a good job with the Red Cross drawing a nice salary. This lady has three grown children, all educated, to whom she could look for support in emergency. Is she not serving well in her present capacity?

III. ARNOLD A. ARMSTRONG, a young man, 36-years, with a wife and two boys to support, humbly ask for the office solely on his honesty, integrity, and qualifications. He has given eleven years of his life to the teaching profession - - admitted by all to be the poorest paid profession in the nation. Arnold A. Armstrong sacrificed his business and left his wife and boys to fight overseas. Now he is back and asks the people to promote him from the rank of soldier to the office of Tax Assessor-Collector. Is it undemocratic to pass this office around? Arnold A. Armstrong's friends ask the voters to give a deserving young man a chance and not shut the door of hope in his face.

Isn't it democratic, isn't it fair play, isn't it sound public policy to pass the honors of democratic offices around?

The evidence is in - - You decide.

To The Voters

Of Navarro County

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Navarro County. At the very outset I want you to know that I am ever mindful of the fact that this office belongs to you, the people, and I deeply appreciate the friendly help that you have given me in serving you as your Sheriff.

It has been my aim and purpose always to serve you faithfully and with fairness to all in discharging the duties of the office of Sheriff.

Government Law Enforcement Statistics show that in the past eight months there has been an increase in crime ranging from 23 to 46 per cent, and an all time high is predicted in the next few years.

If you believe that my past years experience as a peace officer, and the manner in which I have conducted the affairs of your office qualifies me to render you further service as your Sheriff, I will greatly appreciate your vote on July 27. And if elected I will continue to serve you to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,

SECOND COMING OF LORD SUBJECT AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD

The Second Coming of the Lord was the sermon subject on Wednesday evening by Rev. R. L. Bartlett of Bristol, Va., who is the evangelist in the revival being held at the Assembly of God church. Using as his sermon topic "The Jewish Sign of the Age Ends," the speaker declared "We can know the return of the Lord is near at hand by observing the movements and the gathering together of the Jewish nation."

Quoting the words of Jesus in Matt. 24:32-34, the evangelist admonished, "Behold the fig tree (typical of the Jewish nation) how she is flourishing and putting forth her leaves, and becoming a nation once again."

There have been good results in each of the services during the revival, as a number have prayed through to an experience with God, several have been filled with the Spirit.

The subject for Thursday evening will be "God's Purpose in Baptizing With the Holy Ghost," and Friday night will be a special divine healing service and the subject will be "The Testing of God's Promises."

Plane Barely Misses Empire State Again

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—A two-engined airplane roared out of fog shrouding New York City yesterday and narrowly missed striking the Empire State building.

Francis Powell, manager of the observatory on the 102-story building, said the pilot banked just in time and leveled off down Fifth avenue.

Although O. W. Young, district administrator for the CCA, claimed the plane was a Coast Guard Lodestar which landed at Floyd Bennett Field from Washington, Secretary of Treasury Snyder, passenger in that plane, said the report was a "lot of bunk."

Just a year ago a B-25 crashed into the Empire State building, causing 14 deaths.

announced over a loud speaker arrangement to those attending the election party. The police department will rope off the block in front of the Daily Sun building Saturday night so that those desiring to attend the party will not be bothered or endangered by vehicular traffic.

Banks will be closed Saturday, election day.

The public is requested to refrain from telephoning the Sun office election night for returns, as all phones will be busy bringing in the returns from the county. The long ticket will require considerable time for each box. The public's co-operation in this matter will be appreciated.

Voters are requeseted to bring their county poll tax receipts. Ex-GI's with honorable discharges during the past 18 months are entitled to vote without a poll tax receipt. Persons over 60 years of age outside the four wards in Corsicana are not required to present poll tax receipts. Those in Corsicana vote on exemptions when over 60 years of age. Persons becoming 21 years of age since January 1, 1946, can vote as unders, without exemptions in the county and on exemptions in Corsicana.

Precinct Conventions.

County Chairman Thompson has issued his official call for the precinct conventions Saturday to select delegates to the county convention August 3. Each precinct is entitled to one delegate for each 25 votes or major fraction thereof at the previous general election in the gubernatorial race. Each precinct chairman has been notified by the county committee of the number of delegates allowed his box.

The voters are requested by the presiding judges that they vote as early as possible. This year's ballot is an exceptionally long one and if the counters can secure many votes during the day, the customary last-minute rush of balloters and the attendant delay in finishing and reporting the count will be reduced.

Speaking Tour Ends Friday.

The official speaking tour of the office-seekers will end Friday night with their appearance at the courthouse. This last appearance is one of the highlights of the political campaign.

While the interest manifested in the approaching primary election has not reached that sometimes displayed in Texas and Navarro county, a large vote is anticipated since the return of the service men. Those discharged within the last 18 months are entitled to vote without a poll tax or exemption by displaying their honorable discharges.

Absentee Voting.

Absentee voting has been much larger than during the war years, since travel restrictions have been sharply reduced.

Election supplies and boxes are ready for the precinct chairmen to call for them at the county clerk's office. The county clerk will mail the absentee ballots to the presiding election judges of each precinct in time to be included in the tabulations Saturday.

Roses Given 54 Years Ago Bring Votes To Jester

Roses cast upon the waters of kindness by a gracious lady, mother of a son who is a candidate for governor of Texas, are now being harvested in the form of votes.

Mrs. E. A. Keller, Corsicana route four, called at the Sun office Thursday morning, paid a high tribute to Mrs. George T. Jester and went on record as a staunch supporter of Beauford Jester.

"I certainly am going to vote for Beauford for governor and I feel confident he will win," Mrs. Keller said with conviction.

"Over 54 years ago the Jesters resided at the corner of Fifteenth street and West Seventh avenue, I passed the home on route to a wedding 15 miles in the country on a big black land farm," Mrs. Keller observed. "The Jesters had a large rose garden and knowing there were no roses at the farm where the wedding was planned I decided to stop and ask for a small bouquet to decorate the wedding table."

"Mrs. Jester, in her gracious way, not only gave me a bouquet but filled the buggy in which I was riding to capacity with beautiful roses," she said. "I will never forget Mrs. Jester and everytime I see her I think of roses. I am voting for Beauford Jester and will put forth every effort in the interest of his candidacy for governor."

To The Citizens Of Navarro County

I want to take this method of reaching you INDIVIDUALLY before the Primary Election on Saturday of this week. The work of the Office has been extremely heavy recently making it impossible for me to be out and contact as many of you PERSONALLY as I would have liked—but that is not an indication that I did not want to do so.

First of all I do want to tell you how very GRATEFUL I am to you for the privilege of having held this Office as your County Clerk since 1941—I do appreciate the HONOR and the continued CONFIDENCE you have placed in me during that period.

Most of you are familiar with the policy of the Office—If that meets with your approval then I sincerely ask for your VOTE for me next Saturday.

The Gypsy Looks Into the Future

(In a brief word of explanation, the author of these political editorials, wishes to make his position clear to the people. My democratic attack upon my opponents' platforms and means to execute same ends today. I believe that today, July 25, is the last day a FAIR attack of the issues can be made, for after today, there is no fair reply possible (Friday being election eve) I have endeavored to be just and truthful in my statements. My opponents have chosen other means to present their views to the people, E. G., highly expensive mailing folders and pretty speeches. The DAILY SUN'S free press has been open and available to all).

Results speak truly louder than words. I have attacked my young opponent's promise to give the aged and needy $40.00 per month as utterly impossible under the law. Now he no longer makes this good-sounding promise to the people, but rather follows what I have tried to indicate is the federal and state law—ACCORDING TO NEED.

Your writer here today again attacked—this time the ideas of his 31-year-old opponent regarding payments to negro children guaranteed under the law. I believe that we as Christians (and my opponent is a fine Christian), MUST recognize even illegitimate colored and white children as HUMAN BEINGS. Altho I do not approve of breaking the 7th Commandment, I believe we shouldn't attempt to deny these children of their few benefits under the law because of the evils practiced by their parents. Since my attack on this issue, the gentleman from Frost has been strangely silent on the matter.

This candidate's ideas have largely prevailed in this campaign, as shown above. Here should have been proof enough of the abilities of Robert V. Yarber to those FEW who deal in slanderous falsehoods against his good name, thinking abilities, and character.

To the great majority of the good people of this county who have expressed great confidence in Robert V. Yarber, I humbly say "thank you." You have my sacred word of honor, that my life will always be devoted to fighting for the people's rights.

In truth, no Gypsy is needed to look into the future—January, 1947. My young opponent says he is a University of Texas law student. His school term will end, if he continues in Austin, on approximately Feb. 1, 1947. Does he propose to go to school the last month of the term (January) when exams are given—or does he propose to be in the Legislature? Obviously he can't do both. A man can NOT serve two masters.

I offer the people no such uncertainty. Having completed my formal education (BBA), University of Texas, 1945), I am free to attend the OPENING of the crucial post-war Legislature in the first week of January, 1947. You can count on Robert V. Yarber's staying there as long as the Legislature is in session, overtime if necessary, to fight for the old people, veterans and the common man of his native county.

J. C. Watson Will Appreciate Your Vote

In seeking re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Navarro county, I first want to tell you that the county superintendent supervises and keeps the records for the schools of Navarro county. The salary of the county superintendent has been $3700 since 1940. On September 1, 1945, the salary was raised to $3800. The salary of the county superintendent is paid out of the available school funds of the county, just as teachers are paid.

I seek re-election upon my record as a citizen, as a teacher in the schools, and as county superintendent.

I wish you would check my record with those with whom I have worked, the teachers, the trustees, and all who know me.

I wish to state that I have worked hard to make you a good county superintendent. I feel that much has been done to help the schools during my tenure of office. For your consideration I would like to list some of the things that have been accomplished.

When I took office there were only four (4) accredited rural schools out of 51. There are now only six rural schools in the county not accredited. These are very small schools with fewer than 125 students.

The schools are free of debt.

The teachers have received their salaries in full during my tenure of office.

A circulating library has been established for rural schools.

A health program has been emphasized. Running water has been provided in most rural schools, with sanitary drinking fountains, and facilites providing for children to wash their hands.

All schools have been assisted in maintaining lunch rooms.

All schools have been instructed to follow the state course of study.

The teachers and trustees have been asked to provide clean and attractive schools.

There has been and is a fine spirit of co-operation among the schools of the county.

In closing, I would like to remind you that the county superintendent was allowed 300 miles of travel per month during the war. For this reason it was impossible for me to visit the schools as often as I should. There has been and still is a shortage of teachers; this makes it difficult to carry on.

I favor the employment of a rural school supervisor, if the school authorities will agree and the county board will provide the funds.

I know that I have worked hard and that I have made you the best county superintendent I could. If you would like for me to continue to serve you, I will appreciate your vote.

I thank you.

"Election Day Draws Near"—
Only a Few Days Remaining.

Since only a short time remains before our first primary—it is most important that we give much time and thought to the qualifications and worthiness of our friends who offer themselves as public servants.

We wish to call your especial attention to the candidacy of our good friend and fellow citizen MR. JOHN C. HUGHES, who is a candidate for DISTRICT CLERK.

Mr. Hughes has spent his life in Corsicana and Navarro County. No person has ever spent a more useful life than this Chistian gentleman. Since boyhood he has taken an active and helpful part in Church and Civic affairs, never so busy but what he has taken time to render helpful and unselfish service, where his friends and community needed him most.

The Young Men's Christian Association was helped by his services as a member of the Board of Directors for twenty years, duing that period of time he made an outstanding record in every financial drive for the Institution.

As a member of the City Council he served ably in the street and sanitary departments, also in the lights and water departments.

Mr. Hughes served as a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows Home Board for seven years; during that time and every day since, his loyalty to the children and the aged in the home, has been true and sincere. His deeds of kindness and acts of thoughtfullness toward the children and the aged, have been most encouraging and helpful.

Perhaps no individual in our County has meant more to those in need of comfort and assistance, than has our friend, Mr. Hughes.

During his many years as a busines man in Corsicana, John C. Hughes honesty, sincerity and integrity has never been questioned; and his ability fully measures up to the requirements of the office in every respect.

Let's elect him as our next District Clerk with the asurance that he will do his duty and reflect credit where credit is due.

Friends who know him best.
(Pol. Adv.)

To the Voters Of Navarro County:

Realizing the impossibility of contacting all of you to present my candidacy for representative from Navarro and Hill counties, I take this method of soliciting your vote for this high office.

I had hoped to submit my candidacy upon my record only, but since my opponents have resorted to rotation of the office as the chief issue, we make the following observation: It has not been the custom in the past to change each four years. Mr. Calvert served six years while others have served only two.

I also call your attention to the fect that we are joined togeher for congressional representation, and a citizen of Navarro county has held the office since the district was formed, and Hill county voters have supported your candidate against all comers.

Four years ago you had a citizen who asked for railroad commissioner and Hill county gave him the largest vote of any all state candidate in that election.

You have at this time a citizen who is asking Texas for the highest office within their gift. I doubt not but he will receive the larger vote of any candidate for that office. If we of Hill county can and do support your citizens for high places, would you deny one of Hill's citizens this small office? Can you ask so much and give so little?

I am asking your vote solely on my record First, we helped to rid the state treasury of a large deficit, thus unhampering the state in its obligations. I have supported every measure for better schools and have accomplished much in this direction. I have helped to rid the jails of the insane. I have helped to relieve the aged to the utmost of our resources, in the face of a global war. I have supported every measure to relieve the rural communities of their plight.

I have fought the battles of the common man and average citizen against the greed of special interests and will continue to make war on them until such time as their insidiousness agents quits the fight.

If you approve my position then we would welcome your vote of confidence for another term.

Sincerely yours,
D. B. WALKER.

Bar's Endorsement

The Navarro county lawyers unanimously endorse JUDGE GRAHAM SMEDLEY for re-election to the Supreme Court of Texas. He is now a member of the Court and doing splendid work.

To My Friends

and voters in Precinct No. 3, Navarro County:

In another place in this paper you will find my announcement for Commissioner of this Precinct No. 3.

As we have many miles of dirt road here that is in bad condition, some that our school buses travel every day, and our rural mail carrier travels, which at lots of times are impossible for either one to make.

As I am very well acquainted with most of our roads and our bridges in this precinct, I am very interested in our dirt roads, as that is most all we have and very much interested in keeping them in tip-top shape. I know the problem of the people that live off our highways, as I live on a dirt road myself.

I am 40 years of age, have spent most of my life around Pursley and Rodney. At present live one and one-half mile east of Union High, Texas. I have never before asked for public office, and will always offer prompt and honest service. I am 100 per cent for all hard-surfaced roads that may chance to come our way.

Thanking you in advance.

Served overseas in World War I, as a Combat Infantryman in the 90th Division; 8 years as County Judge of Limestone County, and 18 years as Judge of the 77th Judicial District Court, consisting of Limestone and Freestone Counties.

Evidently I have served the people with favor as a public officer, or they would not have continued to return me to office. I base my campaign upon my record as a Judge, and as a Democrat, who believes in the principles of the party, and not all the 'isms' that are attempting to infiltrate into the party and on the platform.

I am not seeking this office upon my military record of more than five (5) years in the United States Army, with more than fourteen (14) months of that period of time spent overseas in combat duty on foreign soil. Millions of other boys and men, like myself, performed a similar duty to their country.

I am seeking this office at your hands, because I can from experience formerly had as a deputy sheriff, coupled with other experience, make you an efficient sheriff, if given the opportunity.

Your present Sheriff, prior to his election in 1938, had no experience as a Peace Officer, Your present Sheriff has served four (4) terms and is seeking a fifth (5) term, ten (10) years in office. CORSICANA, TEX., JULY 26, 1946

EDUCATION IN DANGER

Three thousand teachers and school administrators in a national meeting at Buffalo reveal that public education in the United States is in a grave condition. The conference, sponsored by the National Education Association, brings to light a serious teacher shortage due to inadequate and irregular wage standards.

The average teacher salary for the country is $35 a week, and many teachers receive less than $20. A half million instructors have left the classrooms for better pay elsewhere. Passage of the $250,000,000 Federal Aid Bill is necessary to raise state levels to figures which will bring back well-trained persons.

In the meantime 110,000, or one in ten of the teachers now employed, work under emergency licenses, which indicates that their qualifications are below the lowest of their state. Men teachers are so few that millions of children pass from kindergarten through high school entirely under female instructors.

Conference delegates said that they were not concerned about possible government interference through federal aid. They pointed to the successful adminstration of the nation's land grant colleges as a satisfactory pattern for subsidizing public school education.

The public school problem touches every community and nearly every family. The teachers, by publicizing the critical situation, perform a duty not only for themselves but for the country.

EASY HINDSIGHT

President Truman is notoriously an optimist. Those closest to him say that he may lose his temper, but he never becomes discouraged. The United States, in his mid-western mind, cannot fail, however rough the going. His splendid physique and never-failing good health in part explain his confident outlook. The rest of it is his attitude toward criticism. He seldom lets his critics get him down because, in his own homely phraseology, "They run the government by hindsight. I have to run it by foresight, so of course I make mistakes."

This is not a bad idea for humbler citizens to remember, if at times there's an inclination to look mournfully back over years that have been less effective than they might have been. Most people do the best they can with the light they have at the time. If greater knowledge comes later, unfortunately it cannot be made retroactive.

WELCOMING THE BRIDES

Many communities these days have a chance to demonstrate practical international goodwill to newly arrived residents, the foreign-born brides of ex-G'I. They come from France, Tunisia, New Zealand, China, England, Algiers, Ireland, Belgium, Norway, Iceland, Italy, Poland, Australia. Some will experience great homesickness, but the majority will adjust themselves to the country which has always absorbed people of other lands.

In many cities and towns parties are being staged for the brides to welcome them and give them an opportunity to meet other young women from far away. Newspaper and magazine pictures of these newcomers show them a good looking lot, a fact that will make their neighbors' reception of them all the more cordial.

American soldiers seem to have been pretty god pickers. The brides' letters back home, reporting local friendliness, will be a basis for round-the-world good feeling for the United States, as important in many ways as the more formal conferences of official diplomats.

DISHES

When the dinner party's over and the friends have said: "Good-bye!"
There are ash trays to be emptied which with weariness you eye.
There's a room or two to straighten ere you turn to climb the stairs,
And you mustn't leave the parlor filled with dinner-table chairs.
But the task that most I dreaded,
following several hours of fun,
Was the stack of greasy dishes she insisted must be done.

"It's too late!" I used to mutter.
"Wait 'til morning, when I've gone."
"It will only take a minute" she would answer. "So come on!"
And she'd lead me to the kitchen.
By the way she tossed her head,
Well I knew I'd dry those dishes
or I'd never get to bed.
So, from kitchen to th cupboard
I was kept upon the run
Till she said: "I feel much better now we've got the dishes done."

Oh, I don't know how to write it
but today, the way I think,
It would fill my soul with rapture
to see dishes in the sink.
I'd give all I own this minute, after dinner we had planned,
Once again to stand beside her,
taking saucers from her hand
I'd wipe dishes night and morning till my time of life was through,
And I'd thank the Lord above me that the task was mine to do.

GERMAN OPINIONS

The poll conducted by the American Military Government in Berlin to determine what Germans in the American sector thought of Hitlerism was significant in two ways.

Of the persons questioned by German college students 53 per cent said they thought Hitler's ideas were good but they were not carried out well. Another 37 per cent expressed disapproval of Hitlerism, and the other 10 per cent did not respond.

If indications of the poll are accurate, and more than half of the Berlin people picked at random still believes in the Nazi ideals, the United Nations have one more proof of the difficulty of promoting democratic ideals there for many years to come.

But the fact that so large a percentage dared to disagree openly with the standards of their present governors is of more importance in itself. In Hitler's day, disagreement meant a risk of life.

HILLMAN'S LEADERSHIP

Sidney Hillman was a labor leader who concerned himself with improving the lot of his union members. He fought for shorter hours for them, starting when the usual work week for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers was over 60 hours. He got them more pay, and benefits for sickness and unemployment. He achieved these improvements by working with management, and this improved relations within the whole industry.

In recent years Hillman was the target of much criticism for his activities as head of the CIO Political Action Committee, but for his constructive union leadership he has long been considered a type all too scarce in American labor circles.

VIEW OF AMERICA

Graham Hutton, an Englishman who says he has spent five of the happiest years of his life in our middle western states, has written a book called "Midwest At Noon." This region he calls the most typically American part of the country.

Many Europeans, from De Tosqueville and Mrs. Trollope to James Bryce, have written of America with varying degrees of tolerance or intolerance, but none has viewed us with more kindness and understanding than has Mr. Hutton.

He traces the rise of our present-day manners and customs from our pioneer origins, and describes the life and habits of the people in our rural districts, in small towns, and in cities of all ranges of population. This is done with real warmth of feeling and a depth of understanding which endear him to the reader.

More books like this written by authors about other countries than their own would be an immense help toward world peace. We have had enough smart, clever, superficial volumes which prove nothing except their writers' desire to seem superior. What is needed is simple friendliness and a real desire to understand the ways of others, and to interpret them to the world.

SUNBURN SEASON

This is the season for an annually recurring epidemic. The affliction is erythema, and it's 100 to one that many readers of this column will be afflicted, as they have been many times. The common name of this common discomfort is sunburn.

The vogue for tanned bodies hits a new high this season, with nearly every man, woman and child bent on browning. This enthusiastic courting of Old Sol can be a beautifying process, if one prefers tanned to lily-white complexion, provided that over-exposure and its consequent blistering are avoided.

A word to the wise for folks who have not been outdoors much this summer: mid-July sun bathing calls for discretion—ten minutes or so at a time at first—and water reflects the ultra-violet rays, which do the blistering, 20 times more powerful than land.

RENT CONTROL

Housing is generally considered to be the worst sore spot in the whole field of shortages. With food and clothing, it's at the top of the list of essentials, but unlike food and clothing, the quantity of available housing cannot be increased to an adequate amount for a long time to come.

So without rent control, housing naturally moves toward sky-high prices. When hundreds of families are trying to get nearly every house or apartment which becomes vacated, in desperation somebody will pay far more than the place is normally worth. Likewise the landlord knows he can get any rent he asks.

Whatever the final decision on OPA as a whole, the housing problem can be considered separately. The endless complications involved in fixing prices on products for sale need not enter the consideration of rent control.

By pushing through a separate rent control law, Congress could save many families from unbearable financial troubles, and at the same time put another anchor on general inflation.

"Well, I guess you had as well send the 16-ply casing and tube on. How much is it?"

"$303."

The auditor gulped and repeated his previous query, and in turn received the same answer, "$303."

"Wait, let me contact the commissioner before you ship the tire and tube," the auditor rejoined, and the commissioner also was of the same opinion as the auditor.

The high-priced tire and tube were not purchased.

LOOSE-MOUTHED GENERATION DEFILES OWN MIND AND SPIRIT*

Growth of Vulgarity and Profanity a Serious Symptom - - Loss of Reverence for the Name That is Above Every Name - - Simple Speech Taught by Jesus.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

Many of our good magazines have gone not only dirty but also profane. They carry the coarse speech of the gutter into the parlors of refined people who still have standards of decency. It might change the situation with some of these publications were their editors (the newspapers maintain a higher level than the "class" periodicals) to receive enough letters after this fashion:

"Dear Sir: It may surprise you to know that among your readers are some persons who do not swear or talk sex; and who still adhere to our historic standards of decency.

"These folk, who accent the authority of the Bible and of our traditions of gentility, do not care to have the minds of their young people corrupted by the sort of thing that has become commonplace in your pages. So we part company with you."

Catholics have a "Holy Name Society," the members of which are pledged to observe the Commandment, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain"; and who reverence the holy name of Jesus. All other churches would do well to follow this example. For loose profanity is on the increase. Even girls and women now sully their lips by swearing. The day is gone wherein no gentleman would insult a lady by the use of profanity in her presence.

Too Stupid for Words

One lesser criticism of prevalent profanity is that it reveals mental deficiency. Men swear recklessly because they have not the vocabulary wherewith to express their exact meaning. And usually such folk are a bit short on ideas. I have always prided myself that I could voice my opinions more clearly and effectively than by the meaningless stream of profanity in common use. I once told a man, "You are a poisonous specimen of the lower order of fauna." That bit.

Of course, the greatest reason for abstinence from profanity is that it violates the fundemental moral law and is a sin against God. It affronts the Holy Name. It insults the Divine sovereignty. It repudiates our standard prayer, "Hallowed by Thy Name." It is irreverent and irreligious. It reveals a lack of brains: the sheer stupidity of profanity should remove it from the vocabulary of all who profess intelligence. And always over against it stands the sublime affirmation, "I am Jehovah."

It is no light thing to affront the sacredness of the Supreme Being, before whose presence the angels veil thir faces, as they cry "Holy! Holy! Holy!" A deep sense of reverence toward Almighty God is a first essential of clear thinking and good living. Men cannot worship the God in whose name they curse. God's children. Because He is God He cannot let go unpunished any offense to His covereignty. There is no room within the circle of His favor for "Cussing Christians." "Holy and reverend is His Name."

In the Witness Box

Lawyers say that perjury is so common in court-rooms that it is seldom remarked upon. This disregard for the solemnity of an oath is of a piece with the prevailing looseness of speech. We all talk too much, and too heedlessly. "Words mean nothing to him," said a Y. M. C. A. secretary to me concerning a certain orator. I once knew a preacher who had the whole wide and high vocabulary of religion at his tongue's end, with never a conviction behind it. "Pious talk" may become like a parrot's chatter.

There is reason for the teaching of Jesus about simple speech: His "yea, yea; nay, nay." For words weigh only according to the weight of the personality behind them.

In Peking one day old Dr. Sheffield a veteran missionary, said to me "The orientals are never profane. They do not take the names of their gods in vain. They use filthy reviling, but they do not swear." One more lesson from the East.

It is true that most profanity is meaningless. I have got quicker action out of dilatory Chinese coolies by vigorously conjugating a Greek verb than I could have secured by a stream of profanity. A few evenings ago the employer of a gang of dock workers said that he sometimes used profanity in stirring up his men, but that it does not mean a thing to him. He uses the most awesome words in human speech without any regard to their real significance; which I counted a serious confession. Most profanity is really meaningless, and a symptom of our loose-mouthed generation. For it is sin against a holy God.

Jack Megarity
Commissioner Precinct No. 1.

JACK MEGARITY has made an enviable record as Commissioner in the building of roads as well as in the handling of the finances of this precinct and county.

..When he went into office January 1, 1945, Precinct No. 1 was deeply in debt. This had to be paid and in doing so he was seriously handicapped in his road work, but the precinct is now clear of all debts and he is in a position to give you the kind of service you are entitled to.

When JACK MEGARITY has voted you can rest assured that he has always voted for and in the best interest of Precinct No. 1 and the county and with his acquaintance with the State Highway Commission in Austin, Texas, he is in a position to co-operate with them in the building of our Farm to Market Roads. NAVY TO GET PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECT IN ORANGE, N.H.A. SAYS

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—National housing agency officials announced today that the 500-unit Orange, Texas, public housing project will be turned over to the navy.

The transfer from control by the Orange Housing Authority is subject to provision that ex-service men and persons engaged in war work who now are living in the development will not be evicted before Dec. 31, 1947.

Housing agency officials told aides of Rep. Combs (D-Tex) that need by the navy for the project arose as the result of the establishment of a reserve fleet lay-away base at Orange, and that the secretary of the navy has the authority under law to ask for housing facilities when the need has been established.

Agency officials said final arrangements for the transfer are yet to be worked out between navy officials and the Fort Worth regional office of the Federal Public Housing Authority.

They expressed the opinion that nearly all of the present occupants of the Orange development are either ex-servicemen or in jobs classifid as war work. When vacancies occur, the units will be filled at the discretion of the navy.

INQUEST ORDERED IN SHOOTING OF TEXAN EATING WITH WOMAN

LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 25.—(AP)—An inquest will be held today in the death of Percy Ralph Perry, 42, of San Angelo, Texas, who was shot to death yesterday at the mountain resort of El Porvenir, west of Las Vegas.

District Attorney Jose E. Armijo said Perry was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber rifle as he sat at a table with Mrs. Frank W. Keichline of San Angelo.

No charges have been filed.

Armijo said the woman's estranged husband, 43, of San Angelo, Texas, arrived at El Provenir while Perry and Mrs. Keichline were horseback riding. He inquired about "my friend Perry" and waited until the couple returned.

Armijo said Perry and Mrs. Keichline were seated at a table when Keichline entered Perry's cab in. The shooting followed and Perry died 20 minutes later.

Perry's wife was reported living in Detroit. Perry was recently discharged from the army. He served as a major at San Angelo.

Special Election To Fill Rep. Johnson Post Set

AUSTINN, Tex., July 24—(AP)—A special election will be held Aug. 24 to fill the unexpired term of Rep. Luther Johnson of Corsicana.

Johnson resigned to accept a judicial post. Gov. Coke Stevenson set the special election so that it would coincide with the second primary election date. This will have the practical effect of making the winner in the runoff for the Democratic nomination in the Sixth District, immediately eligible to take his seat in congress.

There are five men in the race to represent the district which includes Brazos, Ellis, Freestone, Hill, Limestone, Navarro and Robertson counties. It was considered likely there would be a runoff.

Oil Proration Is Credited As War Production Aid

DENTON, Tex., July 25—(AP)—Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission today credited 10 years of strict proration and waste prevention prior to Pearl Harbor as being responsible for the state being able to supply four-fifths of the nation's wartime oil needs.

"Texans can proudly and truthfully say that Texas oiled this war," the commissioner said.

He spoke here today before a group of Southewestern Educators attending a resource-use workshop on the North Texas State College Campus.

"Into Oil Age"

"We have moved into an oil age and it has advanced our standard of living," Thompson said. "Our economy today is largely supported by oil and gas. This is particularly true in Texas, where our present and future economy is closely tied in with the success of oil producing, refining and marketing. The petroleum industry in 1945 paid 52 percent of all state business and property taxes in Texas.

Surely it is to Texas' interest to prevent all possible waste of oil."

He defined waste prevention as the use of "those methods which will leave in the ground, never to be removed by man, the least possible amount of oil."

Proration Explained

The former Mayor of Amarillo said it is now possible to ascrertain, within reasonable limits, the amount of oil in each foot of an oil bearing reservoir. He said the plan of proration gives to each tract its proper proration of the oil in the field.

Thompson discounted any predictions of an oil shortage. He said at the close of World War 1 the nation's known reserves were five billion barrels and that since then 24 billion barrels have been produced. He said known reserves today amount to 21 billion barrels, including 11 billion in Texas.

FARMS, CULTIVATED LANDS IN NAVARRO COUNTY DECREASING

CHANGES DURING PAST DECADE REFLECT GREATER DIVERSIFICATION

Changes in Navarro County agriculture during the last decade reflect greater diversification of farm enterprises with increased emphasis on livestock production, according to a study of the 1945 census released by county agent H. C. Robinson.

Major trends in recent years include a decrease in the number of farms and acreage of cultivated land, a decresae in cotton acreage, a great increase in the number of cattle and the growth of mechanization and tractor farming:

Fewer Farms

In 1945 there were 3653 farms operated in Navarro county, compared to 4210 in 1940 and 5607 in 1935. During that time the average size per farm has increased from 107 acres to 140.5 acres. In 1945 crops were harvested from 231,700 acres of land in the county, while ten years ago 332,894 acres of cropland was harvested.

Approximately 358,000 acres of farm land is devoted to other uses, principally grazing. This is reflected in the 1945 cattle population of 49,567 head. In 1935 the census showed 28,287 cattle in the county. Thus the past ten year period has seen an increase of approximately 75 per cent in cattle growing, always an important source of farm income in this county. Reflecting the trend in farm mechanization and the switch to farm tractors is the decrease in number of mules from 15,035 head in 1935 down to 4,699 in 1945.

Reduced Crop Acreage

Of reduced crop acreage, cotton heads the list. In 1935, 5,132 farms reported growing 176,610 acres of cotton. In 1945, 2,770 farms reported 125,426 acres of cotton. Corn and oats have shown a slight decrease, offset in a measure by increases of grain sorghum and legume crops.

Among the chief factors that have influenced these trends have been the migration of farm population to urban centers, the difficulties farmers have had during recent years in securing adequate supplies of farm machinery and farm labor, and the upward trend of cattle prices over a period of years that has made it more profitable to pasture much farm land that was formerly cultivated.

Larger Farm Units

Looking to the future, the agent predicts an increase in farm mechanization and electrification, larger farm units, higher bred livestock, the continued use of livestock as a means of marketing much of the farm grown feedstuffs, better seed, together with more people using sound farming practices. Also, and of great importance, a great increase in the use of soil and water conseravtion practices.

MRS. CARLISLE

SANDRA LEIGH

CORSICANA WIFE, 4-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER OF T.-SGT. CARLISLE TO JOIN HIM IN GERMAN POST

By GROVER HEIMAN
Daily Sun Staff.

"I'm excited and thrilled, but I'm not scared—except of getting seasick," Mrs. Aileen B. Carlisle, wife of T-Sgt. Ralph L. Carlisle, presently stationed in Germany, said on the eve of her departure for New York City.

Mrs. Carlisle and her four-year old daughter, blonde Sandra Leigh, will board the S. S. President Tyler at the port of New York Aug. 1, en route to Bremerhaven, Germany. From the German port they wil irtavel by rail to Nuernberg, where Sgt. Carlisle will meet them.

To Live in Erlangen.

"We will live in Erlangen, where my husband is stationed. His letters have been full of details about the house—it has seven rooms and has been completely done over. The odd thing about it is all the plumbing is in the cellar," the former nurse at P. and S. Hospital said.

In addition to the housewife duties she will assume in the occupation zone, Mrs. Carlisle will further her medical education by taking a course in blood serology. Sgt. Carlisle has put her mind at ease about the subject of food, with the comment: "Food is available but not plentiful."

Two Year Clothing Supply.

For that reason she is confining the 525 pounds allowed by shipping authorities to linens, silverware, cooking utensils, and a two-year supply of clothing for her and Sandra. As is to be expected, she has been storing nylons, when and if she could find them, for the jaunt. Those are the only luxuries contained in the shipping allotment.

"The two-story house is all furnished and is very old. My husband says the stairs are very narrow, but I know I'm going to love it."

Recreation, her husband has warned her beforehand, is a scarce commodity with the post movie theater being the sum and total except for activities with the other families.

Leave Sunday.

Mrs. Carlisle and Sandra will leave Corsicana next Sunday on the first leg of the long trip. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Ferguson, 1601 East Seventh avenue. Born and reared in Navarro county, she graduated from Powell High school in 1938.

S-Sgt. Carlisle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Carlisle of Alvin.

FLOOD SWEEPS UTAH TOWN, MOVING ONE COMPLETE BUILDING

MOUNT PLEASANT, Utah, July 25.—(AP)—At least one building was demolished and cars were carried as far as five blocks late yesterday when a disastrous flood raged through the center of this Utah town from rain-swollen Pleasant creek.

Damages estimates were more than $100,000. No lives were lost.

Farms and gardens in the path of the flood were washed out while the main street of the community was filled with bouldders and mud, in some places more than a foot deep.

Railroad crews worked all night in an effort to clear debris and mud from the Denver and Rio Grande railroad tracks and right of way.

CAR SHORTAGE

taining materials, princpally steel and lumber.

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, cut its Chicago area operations 25 percent this week because of a car shortage; Pittsburgh manufacturers running out of storage space anticipated steel mill curtailments within a week; in Nortern states grain was piled on the ground at bulging elevators and on farms. Some coal mines were reported closed.

The situation stems from high production with resultant demand for a huge amount of shipping space, and the fact that less than 200,000 freight cars were built during war years when essential materials were diverted to armament needs.

Railroad carloadings this month approached 900,000 cars a week, a July level untouched in peacetime since the record year of 1929; air lines reported new highs in volume for air freight and express; truckers were similarly rushed.

Roads Filing Orders.

G. C. Randall, manager of port traffic for the Association of American Railroads, said the roads are filing all orders, but delays are affecting from 10 to 15 percent of the total."

Pointing out that the railroads never have been able to fill all the seasonal demands for cars in grain territory, Randall said about 1,000 cars a day are being forced from Eastern roads to the West. Some 60,000 cars of grain and grain products are loaded weekly, he said.

Gov. Coke Stevenson issued a proclamation setting aside the day to commemorate the 39th anniversary of the beginnings of the Army Air Forces.

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION OF SPECTACLE FROM BOMB—Based on Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy's advance description of likely results, this is an artist's conception of the column of water to be blown into the air from the underwater atomic bomb blast scheduled at Bikini. Gas Wells Run Wide Open, Employe Says

LIBERAL, Kas., July 25.—(AP)—Steve Ford Jr., former Republic Gas Company employe, testified yesterday in the Kansas corporation commission hearing here that he was ordered by Alfred Hurlburt, Republic official at Dallas, Texas, to run the company wells wide open.

Ford was called during the commission hearing of what the notice of hearing termed 'the practice of failing to measure gas produced by a well into a pipeline and measuring such production."

R. J. Phillippe, Hugoton, commission employed conservation officer, testified earlier that he had warned Ford that he was violating commission rulings.

Phillippe's investigation of Sherwood wells No. 1 and 2 south of Hugoton, May 24 led to the hearing here.

Ford said tnat after Phillips reported to the commision he had taken it upon himself to remedy this situation.

D. A. Howard, vice-president of Republic, testified that arrangements had been made for the retirement of Hurlburg before the discovery of the alleged violations. Hurlburt was described as a man 70 to 75 years of age.

REV. CHESTER WATT CIVITAN SPEAKER THURSDAY AT NOON

PREACHER COMPARES BUSINESS OF GOD WITH THAT OF CORPORATION

The Rev. Chester G. Watt, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Mineral Wells, who is holding a revival meeting at the First Baptist Church in Corsicana, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Civitan Club at the Navarro Hotel.

The topic of his address was "God's Business."

He compared the business of God with that of a corporation, drawing an analogy between the functions and purposes of a corporation with that of religion.

Investment Enormous

"The investment in it is enormous," he said. "You have at least eight million martyrs to start it off. You have a charter. That is the New Testament. You have a definite purpose in it. It is the biggest salvage business in the world. Men and women are salvaged. And the dividends are enormous."

He said that many prominent business men were finding that the principles of the Christian religion and the principles of business were not incompatible and listed a number of outstanding business men who are also well known for their church activities, such men as W. G. LeTourneau and Al Smith.

"The man who does not take God in as a partner will find himself spiritually bankrupt before long," he declared.

The Rev. Jared I. Cartlidge, pastor of the First Baptist Church, introduced the speaker.

At the opening of the meeting, the members sang, "The Lion's ball team, it ain't what it used to be," and later somebody suggested that a gift, such as are sent to sick people, be sent to the pitcher of the Lion's Club softball team which lost a game to the Civitans Tuesday night.

Program committees announced for the next three weeks are August 1, Campbell Gillespie and Joe Garner; August 8, H. L. Cofer and Norman Hardin; August 15, Earl Griffin and Elbert Hayes.

New members announced were, Ralph L. Evans, coordinator for the veterans' school, ad Elmo Bell of Barqs Bottling Company. Visitors were E. D. McsCormick and Connie Strickland.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—The stock market enjoyed a somewhat apathetic rally today with selected steels, rails and specials leading the comeback.

Gains of fractions to 2 or more points held well in the majority near the close although top marks were reduced in numerous cases. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 900,000 shares.

On the rising side were Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Republic Steel, Santa Fe, Great Northern, northern Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, Baltimore and Ohio, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, Union Carbide, International Silver and Du Pont.

A sharp bulge in six-months' net for Park and Tilford and National Distillers buoyed these stocks.

Carrier bonds hardened.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

AP Newsfeatures.

Dear Judy—Cut ;

The heps have discovered a new thirst quencher, and golly! On these hot days do you need something zippy! You make it by combining 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2-3 cup of orange juice and 1-3 cup of sugar and heating until syrupy. Cool. Pour into a shaker or jar and add 1 quart of milk and 2-3 cup plain malted milk powder. Cover jar tightly. Shake. Pour over cracked ice. This will serve six people.

NATION, AS WELL AS CORSICANA AND TEXAS, LOSES GOOD SOLON WHEN LUTHER JOHNSON RESIGNS

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, July 25.—(AP)—That the nation as well as Texas lost a good legislator when Luther A. Johnson left Congress to become a federal judge was indicated from the lauditory remarks of Democratic and Republican colleagues alike when he resigned.

Leaving the House simultaneously with Corsicana's veteran congressman was Rep. Murphy (D-Pa), who also resigned to assume a judgeship. As soon as they had their farewell addresses a score of members on both sides of the aisle arose to pay them tribute.

Excerpts from the remarks of some of the more prominent members follows:

McCormack Leads Praise

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass)—"Both men are honorable and trustworthy. The people of America have benefited greatly by their service in this body, one for 23 years and the other for 4 years.

"As my mind goes back through the years, I see the gentleman from Texas always at my side fighting for the passage of such legislation as our conscience and our judgment told us we should support. x x x"

"Fine Qualities"

Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass)—"It is unfortunate when men of their type should leave Congress, particularly in these critical hours, when men of experience and patriotism are needed. x x x Here I early became intimately acquainted with my distinguished Texan friend. During these years I have come to know him intimately and appreciate his many fine qualities. He has applied himself diligently to the public service. He has been honest, sincere, and conscientious in his efforts to make this a better land."

Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY)—"The gentleman from Texas will understand perhaps that I have had a special delight in my friendship and acquaintance with him, because I rode the range for 5 or 6 years in Texas, and upon occasion called myself half Texan. x x x Time and again the members on the opposite side joined hands in supporting helpful-making legislation to which Mr. Luther A. Johnson had contributed enormously."

Says Change Relief

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis)—"When you get to know people and really sit with them and find out what they are thinking and how they react, you find after all, under the skin they are honest-to-God Americans thinking the same as you are thinking. I find my good friends to be that way.

"I am not saying anything in memoriam—this is not a requiem with me. I want to say, 'Hosanna, thank God you are relieved, you two gentlemen.' Thank God you are going to a job where you can have some peace and will not receive 500 telegrams a day giving you the dickens about something every day of your life."

Rep. Jarman (D-Ala)—"I know the membership of te Foreign Affairs committee in particular will miss the fine and able services and the genial characteristics of the gentleman from Texas. The Foreign Affairs committee will not be quite the same thing, Luther, without you."

Speaker Rayburn—(D-Tex)—"I want to speak of Luther Johnson because I know that God never made a better man than Luther Johnson—neighbor, friend, public servant, modest, yet bold, able, conscientious, patriotic."

GRAND JURY STUDY OF HIGHWAY DEATH TO BE CONTINUED

HOUSTON, July 25.—(AP)—The Harris county grand jury will convene for the third time timorrow morning in its hearing on the roadside slaying of Roy V. Jones, Corpus Christi printer, last Saturday.

Yesterday, Thomas F. Sawyer, Houston painter, was released under $5,000 bond to await action of the grand jury. Sawyer has been charged with murder in connection with the slaying.

The bond was provided by Waldo H. Coffman, owner of a Houston Lumber company. He said he was also providing funds for a defense attorney and had employed a private detective.

A new witness, Milton M. Morgan, testified yesterday that he lived "about 150 or 200 feet" from the scene of the shooting. He said he heard a shot the night of the killing and a few minutes later two men came to his house and told him someone had been shot.

Sawyer has protested his innocence since he was arrested. He says he saw the wounded man on the road and stopped to give first aid.

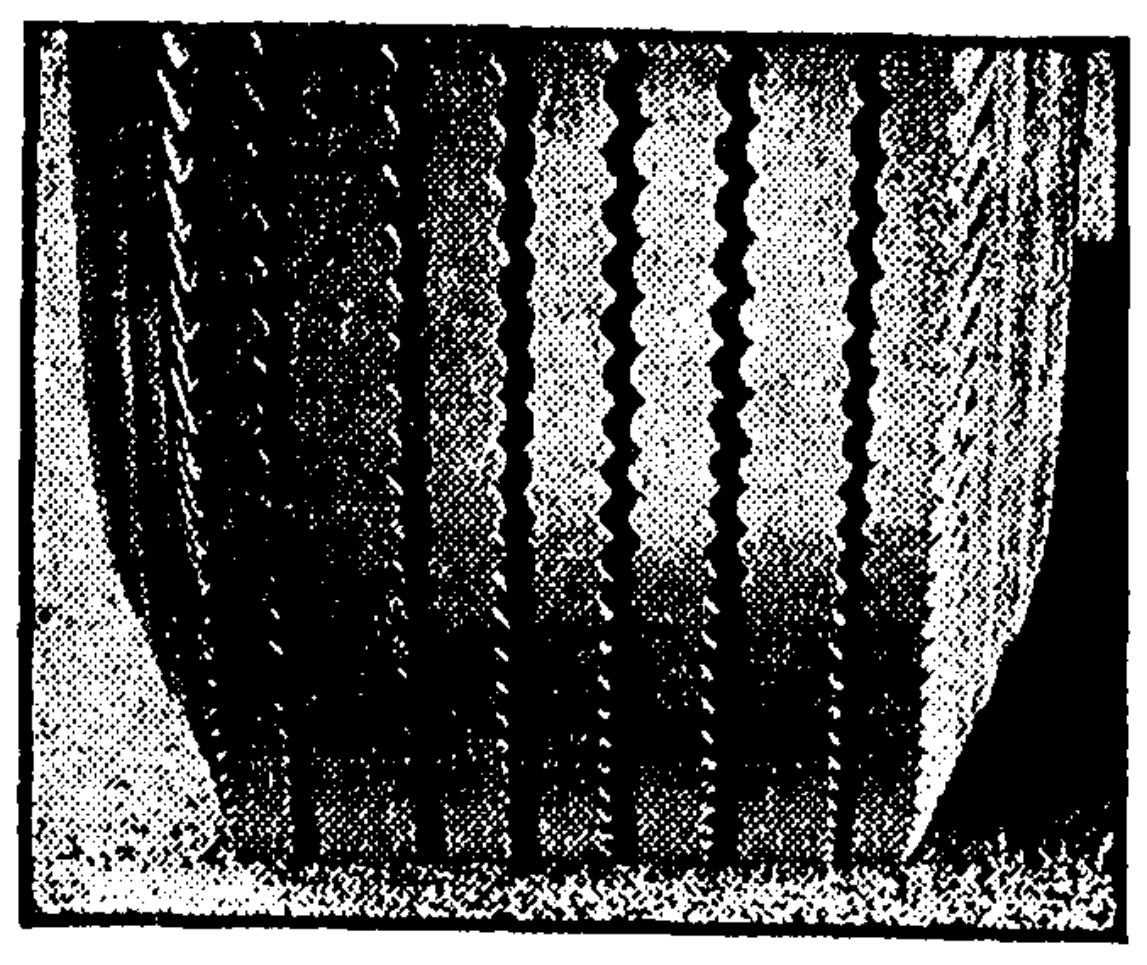
OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!



Listen to the new B.F.Goodrich radio quiz "Detect and Collect" with Lew Lehr as M. C. on ABC network, Thursday evening.

The sooner you order — the sooner you get your tires

You need "police car protection" for your family too. Why take chances with your tires when you can have complete peace of mind with the new B.F.Goodrich Silvertown?

This is the tire with the famous B.F. Goodrich-engineered "road level" tread that gives you more rubber where you need it—on the road! That means plenty of traction for driving, plenty of grip for stopping, more tread to share the wear.

But that's just one of its new features. The new B.F.Goodrich Silvertown is built with special, tougher cords that give it a far stronger body. Yes, even at high speeds, the new B.F.Goodrich Silvertown actually OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!
